Please answer the following questions completely and honestly. Your feedback will help you to reflect on your growth this year as a reader and a writer and help me to make improvements for next year.

2. How did your feelings about reading/writing change from the beginning of the year? What caused them to change?
3. What do you think you did well this year as a reader and as a writer? What do you still need to work on?
4. What are you most proud of this year?
5. What is one thing we did this year that you would recommend doing again next year? Why?
